I'm the best out there and will save you tons of money and time
The generators are still not working because no one has been able to fix and I know electricians have been there and I'm sure not for free These generator guys are the best and yes they are expensive but will fix the problem (by the way they still not have been released)
The architect is not my architect and I stopped him working on the spa after I got that last plan because you said we were meeting another designer

Spa pricing will be much cheaper with me involved than some "contractor estimate"

Call me when you have a moment
