Dear Jeffrey

How are you darling? As you probably know I have been having a bit of a bad-time. My best friend-brother Lee McQueen died a week ago and I have not be=n able to think much on the work front. I have though come across a very i=teresting artist that you would like, i think and unless you already know =im; you would find his work fascinating. He is a young Argentinean and he =epresented the Argentinean Pavilion at the Venice Biennale a few years ago= Please have a look at the sites I have given you to see a few examples of=his work. He could be interesting to commission to do a site specific proj=ct. If you like him I can send you some proper material for you to researc=. As you told me and now i'm back, i will get to work looking for youn= new works and artists as promised.

Tomas Saraceno Since a few years Tomas Saraceno (born in Tu=uman, Argentina 1973) has been working on what the theoretician and archit=ct Yona Friedman would call a "realizable utopia". That one of b=ilding up natural micro-systems, human communities, self-sufficient urban =ettlements, suspended in the sky. These cities would be able to travel wit= the movements of the clouds, so to overcome the limitations and conflicts=typical of national borders. It is a realizable utopia because it is based=upon rigorous scientific premises and the use of innovative materials...

On a last note I wanted to know what you thought of Paul Fryer, it would=be lovely to hear from you. I will call you next week but email me a 1 lin=r so I know your thoughts and reactions.

Love
