Emad,

You had also asked me about, Local (V.I.) Palm sellers, so I went on my own time to a friend of my uncle.

Who owns a small palm farm, the info is included in =he body of the email originally sent to Brice.

This guy, had a lot of harsh opinions about LSJ and =r. Epstein, however he told me he never met him.

He wants $650 per tree, And you must remove and tran=port on your own.

There are two other locally owned nurseries th=t sell plants, and over time as certain palms didn't sell they were plant=d in the ground, so now they have some good sized trees for sale. I have yet=to get the chance to visit them and take pictures. As soon as I can get some photos

I will forward those on to you.

Also when you have a minute, give me a call so I can=talk to you about the Palm Farm in Ponce, since you and I are the only ones who've Been there.

I'd just like to get your read on exactly =b>What we are gonna do and How<=i> we are gonna do it!

Thank You,

Igala

Here are the photos of the only commercial palm farm=on St. Thomas, located in Hull Bay.

The owners want $650.00 per tree, all removing and transporting equipment must be prov=ded by the buyer, they have contacts to refer to, but th=y don't involve them selves in that aspect.

As this pictures shows, the palms are very tall, most over 25-30ft, they are a=so very poorly maintained, no water, and no fertilizer Ever!

This is a picture of a few Tropical Almond Trees, along the fence on the North Side of St.Thomas

These Trees are very beautiful and they can get quite large, they are also very heat resistant and they do well in areas of high wind and heavy salt spray, they are common along most beaches in the territory.
