Here are some spreadsheets for the GIVSP. G450, GV, and G550 markets indentifying current availability and sales within the last 12 months.

Of these I would consider GIVSP serial number 1362 and GV serial number 502=br> to be the best buying opportunities.

GIVSP Sn 1362, is a Gulfstream owned aircraft that they took on Trade.
They are very anxious to move the aircraft asap and will likely take $12.4<=r> -12.5 for the aircraft. It is on Roll Royce Corporate Care and can might=br> likely be negotiated to include some warranty and crew training.

GV Sn 552, is owned by Service Corporation. They have a new G550 delivery pending and the expiration of a 1031 exchange . The owner is actually calling around their agent in an attempt to get offers. They just aircraft sell more quickly. I would guess you purchase the aircraft in the low $18's.

Of the two aircraft I would recommend the GV which I feel will likely have<=r> the stronger residual

Sorry for the delay here is a complete market summary for the Gulfstream and figure which is the best buying opportunity. Gulfstream is telling m= they are taking another high serial number aircraft in trade in the coming<=r> months.

I do think Gulfstream V serial number 502 is likely going to trade in th= $18's and likely in the lower 18's. It is in Savannah now going=through a prebuy inspection paid for the owner. The owner wants to be able to sell it quickly now as they have a 1031 tax exchange coming due very soon. It likel= needs paint and a interior but it is on Rolls Royce Corporate Care and has = Avionics program.

I have a meeting tonight with a client who is town but I will be back in th= office tomorrow and the rest of the week. I will send you an update tomorrow as well.
