
From: Joseph Igala <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Wednesday, September 14, 2011 11:16 AM
To: Jeffery Epstein
Cc: Gary Kerney; Brice Gordon
Subject: Fwd: Boca Chica Farm PR

Good morning,

I have bad news. We will NOT be able to ship the 20 coconut palms as planned for this weekend.
The rainfall from Tropical storm Maria swelled the banks of the Boca Chica Rio in southwestern Puerto Rico. This was not a major problem until yesterday when a breakwater failed causing severe flooding, making it impossible to enter the farm (without a boat) where the coconut palms are.

The shipment was cancelled, hopefully we can do it next week.

See photo below at the bottom of this message.

Thank you,

Igala

<=r>
Sent from my iPhone

Begin forwarded message:

From: Ingrid Ivas <[REDACTED]>
Date: September 13, 2011 4:24:51 PM GMT-04:00
To: Igala <[REDACTED]>
Cc: Maria D Ivar <[REDACTED]>, Jose Ortiz <[REDACTED]>, Moraima Quintana <moraimasjs@prtc.net>
Subject: Boca Chica Farm
Reply-To: [REDACTED]

Under water...

Maria del Mar// Igala

We have to cancel the two platform, for next week.
Sorry but was out of our control, nature things. See the picture.

Ingrid
Sent via BlackBerry from T-Mobile

=