Hi Je=frey,

I am concerned too.

the only thing that is worse is the added caption under your wikipedia=photo. Otherwise the first 2 pages on google are the same.

I am confident that I can provide good content (press, all PR, web inf=). But I really do think that you need a technical professional to get the=bad stuff off of the first two pages.

The bad press are on prominent newspapers, like the NY Times, Forbes e=c. And prominent sites like Wikipedia. These will dominate everything unless you get algorithmic work done.

Could I get going with Reputation and work alongside them?

I want to be effective and really do think that is the best technical =pproach.
