Subject: WiFi network

Hello Sir,

Lesley just sent me word that you may be returning to the city next week.

I wanted to give you a heads up that I won't have a chance to fix the WiFi until Wednesday — I'm tied up at another client's office installing a new server.

At the moment the new routers are behaving well — but the problems don't exhibit until there's actual traffic on the network — so that doesn't mean much. It might suck.

Thank you,
