
From: jeffrey epstein <jeevacation@gmail.com>
Sent: Wednesday, March 21, 2012 9:54 PM
To: Brice
Subject: Fwd: Photos of Sarah's office - March 21, 2012

Sorry for all the t=poS .Sent from my iPhone

Begin forwarded message:

From: Daphne Wallace <████████>
Date: Ma=ch 21, 2012 10:12:46 PM GMT+01:00
To: Jeffrey Epstein <jeevacation@gmail.com>, Sarah K <████████>
Subject:=/b> Photos of Sarah's office - March 21, 2012

Greetings Mr= Epstein,

I have attached photos for you regardi=g what I came across this week, and will outline briefly the series of even=s:

On Monday, March 19, I went to your Library to see if the Aquari=m photos project was in progress or completed. When I saw that the mu=als were not yet in place, I entered the Library itself to see if John had a= least started to prep. The library was extremely warm. Arran w=s called and appraised of the situation. When I met him on the way to=the library, he said he had checked it on Saturday and everything seemed fi=e. I told him not only did the library feel very warm, but it felt si=nificantly cooler outside, and it was not a very cool day on Monday. I=continued with the photographs, but when he caught up with me a little late=, he said the thermostat was reading 74 degrees.

Today, March 21, I returned to the library for the aquarium photos s=nce I was told that the project had been completed. I went into the l=brary again to see if it felt any cooler than Monday, which it do not. = Sarah's office door was open, so I entered and immediately saw that the th=rmostat was reading 90 degrees. The dehumidifier indicated that the b=cket was full and the humidity reading was high.

I felt it would be irresponsible of me to not bring this type of discover= to your attention, especially since it has been an ongoing issue on your p=nch list.

Respectfully submitted,

=/div>

=