Hi Nina,<:p>

</=>

My role with regard to Ivory Coast was actual=y at Geneva Global, the consulting firm where I still work. Up until about=18 months ago, I managed a PEPFAR grant that Geneva Global administered in=Cdl. I'm now seconded to the Gates Foundation (though still employed=by Geneva Global), and working on private donor engagement (partnering wit= other private donors who want to support foundation priorities).

We actually don't have anyone at the foundatio= who is on point for Ivory Coast. Instead, program officers are responsibl= for the various strategies that support foundation priorities (ie, polio,=malaria, TB, US secondary education, etc...). If you go to the website= www.gatesfoundation.org <<http://www.gatesfoundation.org>> , a=d click on "topics" at the right, you will see all of the foun=ation's strategies. This is a very useful starting point, as these a=e the only areas that the foundation currently funds. Then, if you see a t=pic that is of particular interest, you can click on it to read further ab=ut what the foundation is currently supporting. You'll notice that a=lot of the funding is weighted toward research and development, as this is=a particular interest of Bill and Melinda, and they believe that this is a= area where the foundation can have a unique impact.

So, my advice would be for Mr. Tanoh to start there and the= to let me know if there is a particular interest, and I can look for the =eight point person for an introduction, but it's very much based on t=e specific topic, as program officers work on a strategy-basis rather than=a geography-basis. Feel free to pass this email along to him.</=pan>

Hope that is helpful!

All=the best,

Jenna

Dear Miss Brereton,

I was =eferred to you by Jeffrey Epstein who told me you were in charge of the Iv=ry Coast at the Gates Foundation.

I recently spoke with Mr. Marcel =mon Tanoh, Minister and Chief of Staff of the Presidency of Ivory Coast, a=d he is very interested in discussing opportunities for the Gates Fou=dation to fund health and education initiatives in the Ivory Coa=t.

Jeffrey mentioned that you were the best point person and I woul= like to know if I could share your contact information with Mr. Tanoh so =hat he can reach out to you directly?

Please=let me know if that would be appropriate.

<= class=MsoNormal>I look forward to hearing from you.

Best Regards,

Nina
