TSG wi=l come tomorrow to look at RO plant and they believe high pressure pump fa=ling is a IT programming issue..

plan b came to l=ok at generators today and gave anna a grim report that the exhaust flaps =usted off and allowed water and salt in compromising 1 generator that is d=wn plan b said that they believe we will need 2 new generators a=d will issue us a report this week on their findings befor= we replace generators i want to obtain a second opinion from another cat =ertified technician "Remco - company in PR where we purchased =80

daphne has been chasing remco to have them come asap don't want to sound like a broken record but al= our critical infrastructure is not being looked after properly with danny=in charge and i strongly think we need a change..

140 of 147 panels were installed as of 11-28-2017 all inverters are up and running new racking, conduit and wiring completed main issue currently is the multicluster box we had 2 and 1 was damaged from storms pro solar=tried to fix while onsite yet was unable to last week i have authorized prosolar to order a new box which takes 4-6 weeks as they are custom made

cost is approximately 15k once that box is=installed we will be at full capacity of 36kw currently we=have 18kw which is sufficient to run 9 ac units at once at they draw 1-2kw=each but insufficient to run old RO that currently does not work..

generator is not needed to charge batteries however =t is necessary when we have cloudy days..

pro solar is also trying to source a new generator for us and we need an RO solution (i still like containerized units 250-300k depending on size) pro solar presented a generator option a few weeks ago however that unit was restricted to BVI and could not be sold to USVI generator and ro are next key items to get into place.. jim=so far has been unhelpful with this and i have no trust in danny who i think is the main cause of the generator / ro issues on LSJ..

=/div>
i asked hugo hodge for a recommendation today of someone who can=oversee our plant / electric / etc..
