

From: John Brockman <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Thursday, May 31, 2012 5:42 AM
To: Jeffrey Epstein
Subject: OK, excited again: Edge in Torino

JE,

Ginevra Elkann, grand-daughter of Gianni Agnelli, a film-maker and head of Pinacoteca Giovanni e Marella Agnelli, is eager to host EDGE in Italy in July in Turin at the family estate (a 45-room cococo mansion overlooking the Alps). I am thinking of involving Brian Eno as a speaker, and/or some other Edge scientists who I will bring in. Also the best and brightest from Rome, Torino and Milan. Eno has a show in Turin which opens July 9th so it would be around that time.

Some links for your =nterest...

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ginevra\_Elkann
<http://www.pinacoteca-agnelli.it/>
Photosteam: <http://bit.ly/JNIqKN>
<http://www.vanityfair.com/style/feature=/2008/08/agnelli200808>

JB

p.s. WSF:mFor some reason I look at the World Science Festival list of events, and fall asleep. Science popularization doesn't work. At least for me. I want the real thing and that's what we had at The EDGEinner at Il Buco last Thursday. It was scintillating.

=nbsp; =nbsp; EDGE =INNER @ IL BUCO - MAY 24, 2012

John Brockman, Katinka Matson, =alter Mischel, Eric Kandel, Daniel Kahneman, Anne Treisman, Freeman =yson, Paul Bloom, Karen Wynn, Joshua Knobe, Alina Simone, =assim Nicholas Taleb, Adam Alter, Stefan von =oltzbrinck

202

=ohn Brockman
917-744-8920 =obile

President =nbsp; [REDACTED]
Edge Foundation, Inc. tel: [REDACTED]
5 East 59th Street =nbsp; fax: [REDACTED]
New York, NY 10022

=sits EDGEE "The World's Smartest Website" (The Guardian) =t: <http://www.edgee.org>

<=html>=