Hi Jeffrey,

I anticipate having a cutting of the Oro Piana "light camel" colored cashmere at our showroom Monday/Tuesday. Once received I will send it out to you. This color will be a nice option to consider for the divan cushions, should you elect to recover.

Eric and I had a design call this morning and we both agree using the "light camel" cashmere on the entire divan with a leather welting would be very classy.

For the end arms, I would then use a combination of either cashmere and leather or cashmere and the Hermes fabric from the side walls.

I'm going to reference the Hermes sofa arm styling again (attached) because it's similar to yours and tastefully done. I would run the leather on the top and carry down to the inside of the arm for durability. Then cashmere or the Hermes fabric on the side wrapping around to the front of the arm.

I am not sure how the blue carpet will look with the=existing materials scheme now that you have switched course and elected th= dark wood...

If you want to keep the boucle divan fabric, then yo= need a visually heavy material on the divan arm rests as the boucle is a =ery textured, nubby fabric.

Personally, id rather see you replace the divan fabr=c with the Loro Piana cashmere fabric with leather welting. The divan end =rms can be reshaped as per your desire and upholstered in either the leath=r or a combination of the cashmere and leather.

Heading down to Maryland this am for Thanksgiving th=n I will be in Cayman Next week on vacation, but wanted to address this wi=h you prior to waiting on your wood sample.

Eileen has reviewed the samples and ideas with me yesterday, so she is up to
