Some say that feelings can be read on=the face. If true, I was either a very good actor ( not possib=e according to those who worked closely with me ) or those standing in fro=t of olive green cabin at camp David needed eye glasses. It was said I loo=ed Defeated, distressed or depressed. . Not the case at =ll. I was of course disappointed. . Their was a historic lack=of results over the previous 14 days . This would be a blow to=me personally as prime minister but much more importantly would have seri=us consequences to Israel

=A0 I had been a politcian all of 5 years. Most of my life had =een in uniform. From inception as a small slightly built fresh=faced teen i had selected to be part of the begining of a new Israeli Uni= , sayeret Makal. The current day equivalent of the spec=al forces ie Delta Force ( U.S ) or the SAS ( U.K ) . My dispos=ition was gentically contemplative but it was hardened and burnised into th= characteristics needed to command such a group.

The rule=. there was no such thing as over planning. Thoughts and=strategies were important but actions and their results drove the ne=t decsion. These decsions neeed to be evaluated with a cool stand of=ish attitude. Coldy asseseing the next steps.

=C2 This military approach, led to the frustration of many around in the=polical cirlcles surrounding me as Prime Minister. At my=very first Meeting with President Clinton a year before the conclusion of =alks. I had laid out in great detail the action steps that would hav= to be taken in order to achieve the peace that Israel wanted needed and h=ped for.
