I've attached the sketches from my last site visit of the basket and tiered beds adjacent to it. Other items were planned to be field located, but I'll try to provide a schematic to you in the next couple of days. Roy, if the map you offered is more detailed than a Google map, please forward.

No problem on your request for me to stop in for a site visit- let me know when you need me there, though I'm unavailable this coming Monday the 15th.
