Hi ████ ,

Sounds good - I think Monday will be fine. I may push another release out through a different service on Friday to see if we can get additional traction on the Sinai placement.

I'm working on getting another premium placement for us with a really strong Google+ author and that will help significantly boost the links we are targeting. The authorship "juice" will flow to anything we link to - and we'll include the Forbes and Science site.

I will have an update over on Monday with our current status and a report from last placement.

Happy thanksgiving to both of you!

Tyler
