Super famous place
In Bangladesh

What if we set up a public private space (super cheap) that guaranteed them 3% of all future profit for any probiotic or other product in exchange for services etc

Would obviously have to come with some small amount of money now but they are the world expert on poop.

This is a 10 year play and a partnership with them would be a huge coup. Plus they qualify as charitable equivalents for your 501c3 so little could go a very long way!
