Jeffrey,

I noticed the speakers in the kitchen sitting somewhat "thrown in" in the corners.

If you are interested in getting that cleaned up, then I love the sound quality of the B&O sound bar. We can hide the wires in the wall and mount it under the TV for a really clean look.

I've used the Beolab 3500 for several installs. You'd be surprised how well it handles both music and TV sound despite the small dimensions.

I saw that you have B&O in the bathroom in NYC. And, since they are from Denmark like, I'm somewhat partial to the design.
