i am thinner and in the odd position of trying to gain weight. i was convinced to try prednisone as a treatment for myasthenia and it raised my blood sugar so much i had to go on a med that blocks carbs and i lost too much weight. then i had to change back to an immunosuppressant for good. anyway i was out of balance for a while but i am now back on the right track.

i am very bullish on the parc monceau house.

thanks
