His plan coming together or I should say that his technology and technical / regulatory work. He doesn't have a great business plan but I think I figur=d one out for him. And maybe he liked it.

But he has to stop talking to ppl and freaking them out!!

There is a major time window of opportunity from February to september next y=ar where the stars might align in terms of being able to bundle and acquire=all the landing rights. And if he liked my business plan that is really the=big big step.

Since this is an ecosystem changer he also has to spend a ton of time with t=e telcos so they are advocates and partners. It does work.

It will be super disruptive and if he can stay quiet and do more, it will be=faster than he thinks.

I can explain by phone if you want tomorrow. Today in NYC w strive and deali=g w some more UN stuff
