Hi David

We have already been in =ouch with the IRS and will be going through the required steps .

We are effectively =etting a refund on the unpaid interest we deducted on the 706 but had =ot paid through the conclusion of the audit. We had deducted $2,375,000 =assuming the loan being open for 5 years). Through the date of =he audit we had only paid $1,242,554 which they granted us the =eduction for. That left unpaid interest of $1,132,446 which has now =een paid and more (as an aside we inquired if the amount is greater =ould we receive a greater refund and we were told it was unlikely) . =ur refund request is for $1,132,446 * 55% or $622,845.

Hope that explains the =claim.
