Not yet. With Donald in Europe this week I thought we would get a week free of tariff threats and a market rally into Friday earnings. Futures down 50bps. Bounced off the overnight lows. Will keep you posted.

Aug SPY 280 calls at $3.05 (we paid $1.55). The SP500 is bumping up against 2800 which has been a big resistance level this year. If it breaks above 2800 I think we could test 2840 in short order. So I am looking at the following:

- * Sell 350 contracts of the Aug 280 SPY calls for $3.05
- * Buy 350 contracts of the Aug 284 SPY calls for $1.27
- * Take $1.78 off the table and be well positioned if we break above 2800.

Are you OK if I decide to do that as opposed to just taking profits?

Thanks

Paul
