they =on't do checks in Aus.. I don't think she even has a =checkbook for that acct.. and in my experience, the banks charge =ome significant fee for depositing a foreign check, which they send out =or collection, usually taking several weeks at least.

I have now checked with some online agencies.. it looks like the best ones charge about 0.3% margin compared to quoted exchange rate when exchanging. I assume this is the best we can get?

we have been working on appeal doc this week, and will over the next week.. with some good additional bits of stuff (email from other woman at lunch with lucy saying it was a friendly lunch with no discussion of =obs ever.. etc). Anyway, that is not what I am emailing about. =nbsp; We haven't thus far taken the plunge of moving the $500K =r so that Nancy has in Australia to the US.. for a number of reasons.. =also hope that it might rise.. but also we simply don't know =urrency traders, and if we just ask to move it we will undoubtedly lose = lot of money on banks charging fees and giving lousy rate compared to =he going rate for the currency. Since you do this for a living, =ould you assist us in moving it to US dollars sometime in the next =onth or two.. either tell us how to do it and who to go through to do =t, or otherwise?

Thanks.
