That sounds great!!
Thank you,,
We can shoot for Noon, so we get a daylight Heli flight, if that works fo= you?
I'll email you when we land Teterboro,, and later t=night "when" the plane is fixed.

Appears the #16 Pin that was bent is able to be re-used, Avioincs straighten=the Female portion, on the bench, the pin locks into place now.

They will re-assemble the PDB Rack and complete ops checks, to guaranty our issue is fixed, which should take us to around Midnight, estimate= we also need to do engine runs for Power Distribution Check's as well,

If all goes well, We are going to shoot for departing Savanah at 7am tomorrow= morning, arrive Teterboro 9am ish,

We could have wheels up to LSJ at 10:30am if that works for you?

Thx
