Larry,

I hope you are having a wonderful time in Beijing, while I am in Shanghai, working on the technology article. Would be good to discuss at some point of course.

Please do feel free, and thank you indeed, to cite me if you think appropriate, to anyone including my father.

I hope all waters are calm now and that you are content. Note on Australia is very interesting, but I heard from Australians that they are very unhappy with growing anti china sentiment on the part of their government. They want to do do otherwise.

I would be grateful if your RA had returned the technology notes and questions I had posed a month or more before. If too much trouble, then don't worry about it.

Reread your long letters of advice and acknowledge them whole heartedly!
