I was talking with Serena last night about =oats. She wanted to know when I was getting another one and if we =ould keep it at the same place in Miami. I told her that we would =et another boat and that it would be in the same slip because I own =hat slip, but in the meanwhile I am renting the slip out to another =oat owner for $4000 per month so it is not bad. She =aid to me " that would be a lot of money for most people but for =ou that is like picking up dimes on the =treet". She's a =reat kid.

I am waiting =o hear if Jason is being accepted to go to Lynn University in FL next =ear. Talk about time =lying.....
