as usual, very clever, he was great. however the double negative of-not bad to those that don't.. is not the same as -only good to those that do. :) when you are in New York next we should sit with Bannon, I told him he can learn a lot from you. and as you are probably already aware he doesn't miss a Sunday in church.

Again, fair point. But as Billy Graham was wont to say, I don't pretend to know the mind of God. So the great preacher for one would not agree with the proposition of unhappy consequences automatically flowing to those who did not believe.

. Romans 10:13, "For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved." Say, "Father in Heaven, I believe that Jesus died for my sins." And God will impart eternal life to your spirit... sounds like forced speech to me

Great point! At a basic level, the acceptance of Christ must be voluntary. It's an invitation. No forced acknowledgments, conversions etc., as in the bad old days. Rather, the invitation is extended, warmly and lovingly.
