We had a copyright writer for the last 4 years who retired=last year. Before that, and since then, we have been without a copyr=ght lawyer.

This copyright lawyer found a l=t of flaws in Noam's contracts and corrected them in the few ones he e=amined. But since last year, we haven't had the contracts verified by = lawyer we can trust, or verified at all. Would you have some to rec=mmend?

I have the impression that some of the cur=ent contracts are not representing what Noam has been requesting.

What the copyright lawyer pointed out to us was that the w=y some contracts were written I would have the tax responsibility, but not=the stream of income.

Do you have someone t= recommend?

We have been signing cont=acts without any professional examination and I have been finding some pro=lems, but when I raise some questions about some issues, there is always s=me explanation that doesn't convince me.
