From [REDACTED] (the bond you Skyped in Bali):

Hi [REDACTED] I hope I =on't come off as too pushy, that's the last thing I ♡=99d wanna do but also I realize if you don't go for what you want =ou might never get it...

What I failed to mention d=ring my talk with Mr. Geoffrey and you, I'd be ever so humbled if =e decided to give me a chance. First, because I realize there's pr=bably hundreds of other candidates he could hire, with higher education an= more experience but not all of them would have the same kind of passion t=at I do. If he would hire me he'd get one of the most loyal and de=icated people by his side and second, I am eager to learn and I do it fast= therefore I can't think of a better opportunity to gain knowledge=than being able to spend time working for a successful business man like h=mself. Nobody in my family has finished university so nobody's eve= had high expectations for me but I've come to an understanding th=t this is only an advantage because it motivates me every day to become a =etter version of myself and always go that extra mile so I can promise nei=her you or mr. Geoffrey would be disappointed.

Than= you for hearing me out.
