I'll rephrase. Doing an internship after the=bachelors seems to be for people who are not ready to get a full job. (I=92ll admit that this is for most). Is there really a difference betw=en getting the experience before or after getting the degree? Getting it after the degree means I would get paid more.= I'm going to assume (and correct me if I'm wrong) these internsh=ps would not pay as much as even a standard post bachelors technical job

I'll also note; why would I get an internshi= with a bachelors in hand? Most people do internships in college....=not after.
