Hi Jeffrey

I definitely remember the conversation.

Ahead of our meeting this week please consider the following proposal (which I believe does address your concern about consequences):

- reduce my compensation to $300K
- manage the Fixed Income portfolio and make recommendations for switches/replacements as necessary. Thus far the bond recommendations have worked very well even as HY spreads have widened this year.
- maximize the syndicate business. I think I can make $300-$400K per year doing this. Gratitude was shut down from going into the Institutional book so everything we get is through the Alpha Group account. The p/l would be a fraction of that if you went into the retail book with Gratitude.
- effectively have syndicate cover my fee.
- I continue to handle all of your execution needs with the different counter-parties and ensure tight execution prices on everything.

I really hope that this is something that works for you and it gives me a chance to rebuild my income over the next 12 months.

You know that you can always trust me 100%.

Paul

and keep in mind , we both talked about increased risk and reward. . . and that was based on you actually knowling how to do the job. so i have taken major losses and on top of that you feel you should have no consequences . silly in my eyes

I will reach out to Lesley to set up a time.

I was ready for a change but would not have left JPM without our deal. Mary Erdoes offered me multiple roles across Asset Management when she and I spoke about me leaving to work with you.

The only reason I left JPM was that we agreed to a two year deal. I walked away from a great career where I was making $1.5MM a year, left $1.8MM worth of JPM stock on the table and 17 years of goodwill. I have been incredibly loyal to you and I don't think it is right that you try walk away from our agreement.

The account is up $3.429MM since inception net of fees. I acknowledge that some of those gains came from inherited positions but we both agreed that I would be responsible for all performance going forward when we started last year. I always understood there were risks by making the move but our agreement never had a performance clause. I relied on this fact in making the decision to leave JPM.

I proposed many different alternatives that seemed fair and reasonable. If you feel that none of those work then please propose a settlement that takes into account the remaining $1,125,000 due to me under our agreement.

I would prefer to have the remainder of this discussion in person, and based on our history, I truly hope we can reaching an amicable compromise.
