
From: jeffrey E. <jeevacation@gmail.com>
Sent: Monday, September 17, 2018 4:27 PM
To: [REDACTED]

4. Consider visa implications for=non-U.S. crew entering the U.S.

Non-U.S. flight crew members often require specific types of visas to enter the U.S. Crews on private non-revenue flights may enter with B1/B2 visas. A crew member aboard charter (non-scheduled commercial) aircraft will usually need a C1/D visa. Charter or private non-revenue crew members may also enter the U.S. with A1/A2 visas, as these are diplomatic visas. A range of repercussions – including fines and/or=20 immediate deportation – for not having a visa or the correct type o= visa are possible.

--

=A0 please note

The information contained in this communication is confidential, may be attorney-client privileged, may constitute inside information, and is intended only for the use of the addressee. It is the property of JEE. Unauthorized use, disclosure or copying of this communication or any part thereof is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful. If you have received this communication in error, please notify us immediately by return e-mail or by e-mail to jeevacation@gmail.com, and destroy this communication and all copies thereof, including all attachments. copyright -all rights reserved

--000000000000a6ef23057613a3c6-- conversation-id 328214 date-last-viewed 0 date-received 1537201605 flags 8590195713 remote-id 854104