Cynthia and I looked at each gun and compared serial numbers and photos to what was already documented in the Inventory List. =Included in the attachment with this email will be another copy of the Inve=tory List which will have the guns we found crossed out and checked marked.= We took additional photos of the guns with the serial numbers, make & mode= if it was available (reference the existing Inventory List). According t= what guns are accounted for to what is on the list, we are missing 33 guns= photos were also taken of Ammo, 9mm magazines, a decorative revolver and s=ft case, a ammo reloader and a what looks to be a magazine to some sort of g=n but not sure which type, multiple shooting targets, gun cleaning material= that were located on the top shelve of the safe. A bag with a variety of=ammo, a cleaning kit,a sharpie pen and a manicure set which I know came fro= the lodge was found by Steve and Carlos yesterday when they followed the t=re tracks away from Larry's. The bag was not touched by the guys until the= were given permission by Officer Burd of the State Police. Officer Burd to=k a photo of this bag and its contents as did I and will also be attached t= this email. All of the guns and other contents have been put back into the=safe and locked. Tomorrow the safe will be placed in the garages located a= Ranch Central until further direction is given.

>> New Mexico Locking Systems is the company that came out to the Ranch to o=en the safe and also repaired it. The breakdown of their services will be a=tached to the receipt that should be forwarded to Steve via email.
