Good afternoon.

The first picture is of the system installed at the GSJ staff cottage. The installation is complete as far as Adam Cook's and LSJ's responsibility. The remaining piping from the buildings was within PK's scope.

The second and third photos are of the main compound system that was just installed on Friday by Adam Cook's men along with rules in the excavator. There was not enough time to get the backfilling done and yesterday was devoted to moving trees from GSJ to LSJ. I had planned on completing the backfill on Monday but have put off all plans for GSJ as instructed.

Let me know if you need more information.

MG.
