

---

From: [REDACTED]
Sent: Monday, January 28, 2019 3:07 AM
To: jeevacation@gmail.com
Subject: Fwd: Re:

Begin forwarded message:

From: Alexander Nazaryan [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
=b>Date: January 27, 2019 at 7:00:54 PM PST
To: [REDACTED]
<=>Subject: Re:

The story is about Dr. Kim, of cou=se, and his tenure at WBG. I've spoken to more than a dozen people w=o worked closely with JYK. Your name has come up in many of those conversat=ons.

Does it mean t=at you are a "major" part of the story? It does not, though=I hesitate to offer that assurance for the very simple reason that there is=no settled definition of "major."

Is your name currently in the article? It is, but a= I've said before, we think very deeply about journalistic ethics. T=at is only to say that we don't print everything we hear, nor print=things we judge to be rumor or malicious innuendo.
<=r>

I think the above makes our need to have a conver=ation more urgent. One suggestion is that, if we do delay the call, we do i= so that my editor Sharon Weinberger is present. I trust her completely and=believe that she can help us approach this in the most responsible and prod=ctive way possible.

On Sun, Jan 27, 2019 at 9:36 PM [REDACTED] wrote:

Alexander thank you f=r your email.

I assume that I am not a major part of your stor= and that my name or any specifics about me will not be used in this story ◆=80◆ you may be aware I mentor young women.

If my assump=ion is incorrect then we will need to delay our call tonight. <=div>

On Jan 27, 2019, at 5:23 P=, Alexander Nazaryan [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] wrote:

T=ank you for getting back to me.

In short, the answer is yes, we can absolutely speak off the record.

But that requires some elaboration. For one, I have not met two people who agree exactly on what off the record is. My definition is as follows: that nothing from the conversation can be quoted or otherwise referenced in print unless it has been independently confirmed elsewhere (i.e., if you tell me that Lee Harvey Oswald shot JFK, I can print it because other sources say the same thing).

My one request is that, if, in the course of the conversation, something is said that I believe is critical to the article, I can broach the possibility of a segment of our conversation moving to either background or deep background. You would still have total and unambiguous right to refuse.

The above is how I've worked in the past, and it has allowed me, in the course of reporting my book <https://www.amazon.com/Beside-People-Inside-Trumps-Cabinet/dp/031642143X>, to speak with people who have/have had extremely sensitive West Wing positions. I've been able to win their trust and I hope that I can win yours.

Please let me know your thoughts on the above.

Don't worry about recording. I can run a recorder on my end. But if you want to record for your own use, then by all means.

On Sun, Jan 27, 2019 at 7:36 PM [REDACTED] <

Apologies for the delay in responding, I am at the hospital on call.

If you can confirm an off the record conversation, I will call you this evening at 7:30pm PST at [REDACTED]

My call will come from one of our hospital lines, [REDACTED] and if you would like me to set up a recorded line send word and I can arrange that as well.

[REDACTED] =

On Jan 27, 2019, at 1:03 PM, Alexander Nazaryan [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] wrote:

Dear [REDACTED], thank you for your call today. I very much look forward to speaking and want also to assure you that the team at Yahoo News is rigorously professional. If possible, I would love to talk at 7:30 PST tonight. Please let me know.

Thank you.

Alexander

--

Alexander Nazaryan

National Correspondent
Yahoo News

<https://www.yahoo.com/auth=r/alexander-nazaryan> <<https://www.yahoo.com/author/alexander-nazaryan>>

--

Alexander Nazaryan
National Correspondent
Yahoo News

<https://www.yahoo.com/author/alexander-nazaryan> <<https://www.yahoo.com/author/alexander-nazaryan>>

=