Hi Jeffrey,

Thanks for letting me know that you are in the middle of a time consuming big deal. I am reluctant to increase the complexity but we are all now ready to begin the project and would very much like to start, but I don't feel I can give the team the go-ahead until you have confirmed that you are happy with our protocol. We will of course give reports on each stage of the project so that you can see how it is progressing. I really do think it's an exciting one, as this will be the first scientific opportunity I know of to study the nature of the energy Alain generates, and see how people develop the iddhis.

If you'd like to meet Alain and see/feel for yourself the light/energy he gives, I know he'd be happy to come to Paris to meet you.

I hope Jose is not going our way as well.!!

Very best,

Peter
