Subject: RE: we should use this as inspiration for new heli seats. leather too slippery and benches too insecure

There are many words one can use to describe me, but "greedy" is NEVER one of them. I assume you misspelled the word Mensch.

I will reach out to Mark today – I was not sure if your email introduction was where I should pick up from. Thank you (no sarcasm – sincere thank you).

S76C++ - I understand your desire for the passengers to feel "supported / cradled" by increasing the width of the fold down arm. Further, I understand that you do not want to use the ledge as the arm rests.

Modern- warm tones "Hermes" or cool tones "grays"?

This could be a really fun project creating an environment that does not look so "expected" / "corporate" / "Standard S-76-ish"

Best Regards,

Eric
