Luis just called me back. He said he'd also been in co=munication with Rich today.

As far as timeline for comp=etion: he thinks one week, by the end of next weekend for sure.

As far as the library goes, he says because the floors have =een waxed, poly is not an option. It will not adhere to the floors. He can=wax and burnish them, or they can attempt a European hard wax oil. He said=he would work it into the same timeline for completion.

Shall I have them wax the floors and see how you like it?
