Actually, the pre meetin= established what JP would allow as minor permits. The accessory structure= could only be built if they were tied to a residence. I don't necessa=ily believe in that interpretation, but the only way to fight it is in BLU=. That meant we had to add a cottage on C-1 to be able to build a tennis c=urt. A cottage was not required for Remainder A, but Anna showed me an ima=e of one by the pool area we were planning and it made sense to put it in =ow, as JP would likely not allow another minor permit. It is the addition =f the cottages that requires all of the additional information CZM wants, =articularly the sewage treatment plant and the foundation plan.

I thought the reason =or the pre meeting was to iron out all possible critiques. . we only=removed things. isnt that right?
