Dangene's office says they are happy to have a look at [REDACTED] to see if there is something they can do about her moles...they need to see the size and determine if this is something they can do. They would be happy to have a look and give her a treatment/facial but this may be something she needs to have a plastic surgeon or dermatologist office do.

Please advise if you would like [REDACTED] to have a consultation and treatment with Dangene's office.
