Jeffrey,

I have exhausted the "meal carriers" that I believe would be practical and fit in the cavity (18"E2 wide x 23"deep. Total height of cavity is 25" (leaving no room for dirty dishes.

I believe your best solution is an insulated soft side bage that is easy to carry and maneuver through the aircraft and most forgiving should someone (Larry / Dave) "bum=" into a chair back by accident.

This one is pretty cool as you can hav= jojo plug it into a cigarette lighter to stay warm. The only thing is that the person retrieving the food would have to slide the bag o=t of the cavity to gain access as the "access panel" is on=the fwd side – NOT the inboard side.

We can make some simple removable shel=es for the bag(s).

Best Regards,

Eric
