Larry,

Thank you for your offer on the BBJ. We have discussed it with th= seller and they have authorized the following two options as their counte=offer:

1) $20.5M plus his G-IV

2) $22.5M and no trade-in

We hope that one of these two options will be acceptable. I k=ow that you have been using the Royal Jet BBJ as a benchmark for values, h=wever, there are significant differences in the two aircraft and their res=ective values. No other BBJs available for sale in the world check a=l of the boxes that ours does.

- Deliver=d with a fresh C1 Check inspection and all associated due list items
- 7 Aux Tanks (the RJ aircraft has 5)
- U.S. =ased and registered making the ease of entry into service and acquisition

=significantly easier and less expensive

- FANS 1/CPDLC, TC=S 7.1 and ADS-B Out (being installed during the C1 inspection at the seller's cost)

- Good interior cosmetics with a 16 passenger VIP configuration including a stateroom with a large lav and shower and a guest bedroom with two beds, extensive interior baggage/storage and a large galley

Let me know if you have questions about the aircraft or need any additional information that we can provide as you consider this great option. Best, Josh it makes little difference to Mr. Epstein what "value" the GIV has to your seller, that is his offer and ♦=he believes the market for BBJ's of your vintage is $17M, he won't raise it.

Keep me posted

Thx

Thanks for your email. I will discuss with the seller. I don't see this working at a $4M value for your aircraft, but I'll see what= interest they have=and at what fmv level. Josh

H= Josh.,

Mr. Epstein has authorized an offer of $1=M plus his GIV. I checked comps and it appears $4M or a little more =s value. We can close quickly, at this price. As you know we a=e looking at another BBJ, so if your client wants to sell. I would a=vise moving quickly, I'm sure you have discovered that there are extre=ely few real buyers out there.
