
From: jeffrey E. <jeevacation@gmail.com>
Sent: Monday, May 29, 2017 1:59 PM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Re:

Yup

On Mon, May 29, 2017 at 9:48 AM: [REDACTED] <mailto:[REDACTED]> >
wrote:

Speaking of my problem with numbers, I am having trouble understanding what it means to be 65. When my Medicare card came in the mail, I didn't know whether to laugh or cry. I always thought that 65 was ancient, but I feel the same physically (played tennis yesterday, went to Pilates Reformer on Saturday) and mentally (well, sometimes I have a little trouble accessing names). I am still teaching (no math, thankfully,) volunteering at MOMA on weekends and studying French. The senior citizen stereotypes just don't match up with my reality.

I'm still growing and learning, and life is good!

Love you my friend----- for half a century!

--

please note

The information contained in this communication is confidential, may be attorney-client privileged, may constitute inside information, and is intended only for the use of the addressee. It is the property of JEE and unauthorized use, disclosure or copying of this communication or any part thereof is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful. If you have received this communication in error, please notify us immediately by return e-mail or by e-mail to conversation-id 42989 date-last-viewed 0 date-received 1496066331 flags 8590195713 gmail-label-ids 7 remote-id 717682 <mailto:jeevacation@gmail.com>