For my last job (all else is in place) do I put "SLK Design LLC" which links back to you when googled and I am linked to you separately...

or do I put something along the lines of "self employed - work on high-end residential projects in New York and Paris"

(SLK Design used to lead Sarah's website which was not good and a poor body of work - I currently can't find it so I don't know if she took it down )
