After reviewing all previous emails with Husham,. Husham led us to believe =e could re-install the original engine,. In fact, appears the original eng=ne has 12,500 hours, all Husham was doing was giving us an engine with sim=lar hours,.

We originally asked Husham for the original engine be installed that is clo=er in total time to the airframe in exchange for the 12,000 hour engine. Notice the serial number below.

1-L/H engine serial 876170 (12,500 hours total time)

2-R/H engine serial 889151 (5176 hours total time).

3-Exchange engine 876171 (6200 hours estimate).

Notice serial 876170 has 12,500 hours currently install on L/H side.

And serial 876171 has 6200 hours, which is installed on other BBJ. In=my opinion these are the original engines that came with their BBJ,. Since=they operate several , they mix their fleet up with different engines.,

Our best cast would be NON original engine ,. Which has closer total hours =o the airframe,.. but it would not be original engine package from Boeing.=br>

As originally stated, value wise,. Original Boeing installed consecutive se=ial numbers adds value,. They ruined the value for VIP sales in my opinion=

Should we discuss with Bob?

Thx
Larry
