Jeffrey,

With regard to the cabin / entryway/ forward lavatory door as noted in my e-mail(s) on Saturday:

"I know you want to address the vacant/ occupied sign as well as the "peep hole" but i need to see the door and spend some time to think of an economical way to treat this as a temporary solution until you do the woodwork. Same thing with those two leather pieces on the fwd cabin bulkheads- they are probably just glued on- i am just hoping they are not affected by UV light. We will not know until we start."

"It's not a question of "if" we will address the door, its a question of "how" we will address the door."

"IF" the final decision is to strip, veneer and finish the door, then I will need to get samples of a live log and identify what "additional" work may be required - such as tinting or staining the wood to match the fwd cabin bulkheads.

Please elaborate on "slider", "lav", "leather".

Best Regards,

Eric
