Last fall's allegations of sexual assault against President Donald =rump failed to stop his presidency, but one of the more =xplosive of those allegations is once again making headlines.

POLITICO reported that a new =awsuit reveals details linking Trump to billionaire pedophile =effrey Epstein, a convicted sex offender. The reports indicate that one =awsuit contains information about [REDACTED] who alleges that she =et Epstein while working as a towel girl at Mar-a-Lago when she was 15 =efore being recruited into "sexual slavery".

██████ case is set to appear before a judge on May 5, and although her accusations against Epstein have been public for some time, this is the first time the detail about her employment at Mar-a-Lago has been included.

Last summer, the Trump-Epstein connection made headlines when Trump was slated to win the Republican nomination, and just before the election, a woman came forward alleging that Trump raped her when she was 13 at one of Epstein's parties — only to drop out a few days later.

In 2015, Trump lawyers denied claims of the then-candidate's involvement with Epstein by saying their only relation was that Epstein was "one of thousands of people who has visited Mar-a-Lago". Those claims that fly in the face of a 2002 New York magazine interview in which Trump claimed to have known Epstein for 15 years.

"He's a lot of fun to be with. It is even said that he likes beautiful women as much as I do, and many of them are on the younger side. No doubt about it — Jeffrey enjoys his social life," Trump told reporters.
