Jeffrey,

I hope the Excel sheet will be acceptable as punch list presentation for the next couple of reviews.

Daphne, Rich and I are trying out a software solution that can provide:

A complete project stage overview in line with what MS Projects offer, but is compatible with both MS and Mac

The ability to do online collaboration so the master sheet can be updated by managers involved at any location. The software will register who did the update

<=div>

The ability to print out 1 sheet project overview.

I worked on the SmartSheet software last night and it does look promising. I just need to insure that Daphne agrees. As soon as that is implemented, the full punchlist can be printed at any time, for all purposes.

Hope this is satisfactory

<=r>

Thanks

John
