

---

From: paul krassner <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Wednesday, March 22, 2017 2:36 PM
To: jeffrey E.
Subject: Fwd: Wednesday's Headlines: Labor pick cut deal with billionaire accused of having sex with minors

JEFFREY—

AS A FRIEND I'M =AYING MY ATHEIST PRAYERS FOR YOU.

DON'T LET THE BASTARDS FRAME =OU.

—PA=L

From: The Washington Post <email@e.washingtonpost.com>

Subject: =/b>Wednesday's =eadlines: Labor pick cut deal with billionaire accused of having sex =ith minors

Date: March 22, 2017 at 3:03:03 AM PDT

To: =/b>[REDACTED]

Democracy Dies in =arkness

The morning's most important stories, selected by Post =editors

Top =stories

Labor pick cut deal with billionaire =accused of having sex with minors

President Trump is a witness in a lawsuit over how =ederal prosecutors — including Alexander Acosta, a former U.S. =ttorney in Miami who is Trump's secretary of labor nominee ↗=94 handled the accusations against billionaire Jeffrey =pstein.

By Marc Fisher • Read more »

=table border="0" cellpadding="0" cellspacing="0" width="100%" style="border-collapse: collapse; class="">

Trump tells GOP critics of health-care bill: =E2◆◆I'm gonna come after you'
The president stormed Capitol Hill to sell the health-care =verhaul, using both charm and admonishment to make his case, reassuring =kittish members that they would gain seats in Congress if the bill =assed. Rep. Harold Rogers, a supporter of the bill, said of the =resident's remark: "Oh, he was kidding around. I =hink."
By =ike DeBonis, Kelsey Snell and Robert Costa • Read =ore »

Gorsuch says attacks on federal judges are =E2◆◆disheartening' and 'demoralizing'
Under questioning, Supreme Court nominee Neil Gorsuch reiterated =hat he had told senators in private — that he is offended by =ttacks like the ones leveled by President Trump against federal judges =ho have ruled in cases involving him.
By Robert Barnes and Ed O'Keefe • Read=more »

Trump's budget targets rural development =programs that provide a quiet lifeline
As a political statement, Trump's budget proposal =elighted many small-government conservatives. But voters in =entucky's Appalachia, an area that supports the president, =orry that vital community programs that enhance job prospects and keep =owns afloat might suffer.
By =ose A. DelReal • Read=more »

Yazidis who suffered genocide are =leeing again, but this time not from the Islamic State
At a strategic crossroads between Syria, Turkey and Iraq, the =traditional Yazidi heartland has become a flash point for Kurdish =olitical rivalries. "We feel like a toy in the hands of the =oliticians," a Yazidi religious sheikh said.
By Loveday Morris =nbsp;• Read =ore »

</=r>
ADVERTISEMENT

Opinions

Susan Rice: When the White House twists the =ruth, we are all less safe
By =usan E. Rice • Read =ore »
Good-golly Gorsuch may turn out to be a rascal =n the bench
By =ana Milbank • Read =ore »
President Trump's sanest =ecision
By =athleen Parker • Read=more »
Trump has no idea how to grow =egetables
By =arrison Keillor • Read =ore »
Reality is creeping =nto the Trump show
By =avid Ignatius • Read =ore »
The Trump =dministration's attack on the Chesapeake Bay
By Editorial Board =nbsp;• Read =ore »
ADVERTISEMENT

More =ews

North Korean missile =plodes seconds after launch
The attempted missile launch =omes at a time of heightened tensions in the region, with the U.S. and =outh Korea conducting joint military exercises and the Trump =dministration clearly signaling it is prepared to use force to stop the =im regime.

By Anna Fifield • Read more »

Trump's 'big, beautiful wall' at U.S.-Mexico border will require him to take big swaths of other people's land. The wall will cost a lot more — politically and economically — than the president has publicly acknowledged. Trump will need to wield the power of government to forcibly take private properties, including those belonging to his supporters.

By Tracy Jan • Read more »

As Ivanka Trump's White House role expands, her company is sued for unfair competition

A San Francisco clothing retailer says President Trump, his daughter and his aides have leveraged the presidency to promote products from Ivanka Trump's brand.

By Matea Gold • Read more »

As White House seeks distance, former Trump campaign chairman faces new corruption allegations

A Ukrainian lawmaker claimed documents show Paul Manafort attempted to hide payments he received from a political party with ties to Russia. Manafort has denied assisting Russia in election hacks and a spokesman called the new Ukraine allegations baseless."

By Rosalind S. Helderman, Andrew Roth and Tom Hamburger • Read more »

Tillerson, NATO look for new date for meeting with foreign ministers

The effort came after news that Secretary of State Rex Tillerson would miss a NATO summit meeting and later travel to Russia. As officials tried to schedule a new meeting, all sides insisted that Tillerson meant no disrespect in deciding to skip the April 5 gathering.

By Karen DeYoung • Read more »

Share Today's Headlines: Twitter Facebook

Trouble reading? Click here to view in your browser.

You received this email because you are signed up for Headlines. For additional free newsletters or to manage your newsletters, click here.

We respect your privacy. If you believe that this email has been sent to you in error or you no longer wish to receive email from the Washington Post, click here. Contact us for help.

©2017 the Washington Post, 1301 K St NW, Washington DC 20071

=