Hello Jeffrey! How are you?

I have a question-- the transportation in Brooklyn has been shut down and I'm now stuck at home, I am constantly following the updates, have been in touch with David this morning and we agreed to stay in touch later in the day and see if they will open it up. I am nervous in case I can't make it today, will you please give me the advice how to handle this situation because I don't want to seem uninterested/irresponsible?

Thank you so much!
