I feel ridiculous and terrible about whatever confusion which I fail to understand. But the watch you bought has not been fully adjusted and is with a watchmaker under warranty. In this arena the sale is not complete unless the object is in proper condition. The seller will then ship it to you wherever you wish and send you the total bill with sales tax included.

In any event I am on my way to NYC; I have a dress rehearsal at 1 30 and a concert at 8. I could drop by between 10 and 11 am before you depart.
